

Playhouse Pre-school
Broadwater

Grievance Policy

Statement of intent

If an employee is dissatisfied s/he must have the opportunity for prompt discussion with her/his immediate line manager.

EYFS Key Themes and Commitments

A Unique Child	Positive Relationships	Enabling Environments	Learning and Developing
1.3 Keeping safe	2.1 Respecting each other 2.4 Key person	3.4 The wider environment

Aim

The following procedure should be followed in order to settle all grievances concerning any employee(s) of Playhouse Pre-School.

Procedure

The key objective of the procedure is to allow grievances to be settled quickly, fairly and at the lowest possible level within Playhouse Pre-School whilst allowing employees the opportunity to appeal to a higher level if necessary.

The procedure covers all employed staff in the settings direct employment who have a grievance.

It covers all matters which may become a source of grievance, excluding:

- those concerned with disciplinary action unless the disciplinary action amounts to discrimination, or the action was not taken on the grounds of the employees conduct or capability
 - decisions on strategic business issues, which are taken by the Owner of the setting, but not excluding the operational impact of those decisions
- Employees are encouraged to raise concerns verbally with their line manager (or employer) prior to raising a formal grievance. Employees are entitled to be accompanied at a grievance meeting and appeal, by a representative or by a work colleague.

Procedure

The setting's policy is to encourage free interchange and communication between line managers and the staff they manage. This ensures that questions and problems can be aired and resolved quickly and that grievances are settled informally.

Informal Procedure

If an employee has a complaint about their individual circumstances at work, then they are entitled to raise a grievance. Employees are expected to discuss ordinary day to day issues informally with their line manager through supervision meetings or if necessary request a separate meeting. Where this is not possible employees should raise their concerns verbally with the next level of management, prior to raising a formal grievance.

If after seeking to resolve concerns informally employees are not satisfied, then they should write to the setting manager, explaining their grievance.

Formal Procedure

Employees must provide in writing, the nature of the alleged grievance and send the written complaint to the Manager.

Where the grievance is against the Manager the matter should be raised with an appropriate external Senior Manager, i.e. the Family Centre.

Normally within 5 working days of receiving a grievance, the Manager will write to the employee, inviting them to attend a meeting where the alleged grievance can be discussed. The meeting should be scheduled to take place as soon as reasonably possible, and normally at least 5 working days notice of this meeting should be provided to the employee.

Employees are required to take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting. However, should, for a reasonably unforeseen reason, either the employee, the Manager or their companions are unable to attend the meeting, it must be rearranged.

Should an employee's companion be unable to attend then the employee should make contact within 5 days of the date of the letter to arrange an alternative date that falls within 10 days of the original date provided. These time limits may be extended by mutual agreement.

At the meeting the employee must inform the Manager hearing the grievance what the basis for the complaint is.

After the final meeting, the Manager hearing the grievance must write to the employee informing them about any decision and offering the right of appeal. This letter should be sent within 10 working days of the grievance meeting and should include the details of how to appeal.

Should the employee consider that the grievance has not been satisfactorily resolved, then they must set out their grounds of appeal in writing within 7 working days, of receipt of the decision letter, confirming that they wish to appeal against the decision or failure to make a decision.

Within 5 working days of receiving an appeal letter, the employee should be written to inviting her/him to attend an appeal hearing where the alleged grievance can be discussed. The appeal meeting should be scheduled to take place as soon as reasonably possible.

Employees are required to take all reasonable steps to attend the appeal hearing. However, should, for a reasonably unforeseen reason, either the employee, the line manager or their companions be unable to attend the meeting, it must be rearranged. Should an employee's companion be unable to attend then the employee should make contact within 5 days of the date of the letter to arrange an alternative date that falls within 10 days of the original date provided. These time limits may be extended by mutual agreement.

After the appeal meeting, the appeal hearing Manager must write to the employee informing them of the employer's final decision. This letter should be sent within 10 working days of the appeal hearing.

This is the final stage of the procedure.

This policy was agreed by the staff of Playhouse Pre-School Broadwater.

Adopted on 26th March 2015 and will be reviewed annually.

Reviewed on 7th July 2023 by Z. Munford